Sophomores Select Tentative Date For Frosh Dance

Friday, September 16 Suggested; Meeting Billed for Next Week

"Freshman Welcome," traditionally the first Saint Mary's dance of the college year, probably will be held one week prior to the California rally-dance, according to tentative plans announced this week by Karl Kaiser, sophomore class president.

Friday evening, September 16, has been the tentative date selected by Kaiser and the rest of the class officers. Early next week the sophomores will meet to choose a definite date and site.

Two hotels and one club will be considered for the dance before the site is selected. Under consideration will be Hotel Oakland, Hotel Leamington, and the Women's Athletic Club of Oakland.

Women's Club Favored

Although in the past the "Freshman Welcome" as a rule has been held at the Ivory Court of the Hotel Oakland, this year's social event may be held at the Women's Athletic Club.

Many of the sophomores favor the women's club, according to Kaiser. The popular Oakland club is able to accommodate comfortably 150 couples.

Bids for the dance are expected to sell at the usual price, $1.00.

Although no orchestra as yet has been mentioned officially, it looks as if Sophomore Jack Kelly's orchestra has the inside track. Kelly's musicians played last year for the Dominican supper dance, the Freshman Wells-Fargo social, and the Eire Oge Saint Patrick's day dance in the gym.

Kaiser will name his "Freshman Welcome" committee at the first sophomore class meeting.

'Francis of Assissi' Brother Leo's Initial Lecture

Back on the campus after a tramp-teamer trip down the Pacific coast, in the Central American region, Brother Leo has slated three off-campus lectures for this month.

His first public appearance will be made in San Francisco's civic auditorium tonight at 8:20 o'clock, when he will speak on "San Francisco's Saint Francis." Proceeds from this lecture will benefit the Saint Francis of Assissi Monument project to be erected in that city.

On the following Monday, August 29, Brother Leo will speak on "The Pursuit of Happiness" in the Oakland Auditorium Theatre. This lecture will benefit the school of the Madeleine in Berkeley and is sponsored by the Mothers' Club of the school.

"Who Are Your Ancestors " is the lecture selected for Wednesday night, August 31, to be given at the Community Playhouse in San Francisco. Stanford Parlor, Native Sons of the Golden West is sponsoring this lecture.

Teaching Group Members Meet Lay Plans

number of new members and several teaching changes in the Saint Mary's College Teacher's Association were announced by Thomas Twomey, executive secretary of the organization.

The group plans to continue the series of lectures offering information is to graduate work in the coast universities. Graduate students at the Universities of California, Stanford, and Southern California will speak before students interested in education.

Newest members of the organization clude Wagner Jorgenson, who is teaching at McCloud high school, Samuel Miller at Doris, William Rockwell at Fremont high school in Oakland, Les Groux at Taft, Al Nichelini at Weed, and Ernest Jorge, teaching at Christian Brothers high school at Sacramento, Jerry Dennerlein at San Jacinto nges made among members found has Conlan teaching at Gustine, Hungerford, vice-principal at hnic in San Francisco, Charles Scheflin at George Washington high school in San Francisco.

At a meeting held in June, at which 50 members were present from all parts of the state, Edward Cone was reelected president of the organization, and Thomas Twomey was named executive retary.

Collegian Staff To Meet Monday At 12:20 in G-110

COLLEGIAN staff writers will meet in G-110 Monday at 12:20 p.m. at which time assignments for the week and instructions for the year will be given by the COLLEGIAN'S editorial staff.

All students interested in any feature of newspaper work, be it editorial or managerial, are urged by the editors to attend Monday's important meeting.

Freshmen and sophomores especially are requested to be present at the meeting. No previous experience is necessary.

Vacancies are to be filled in the news and sports staffs, the circulation and business managerial departments.

'Gael' Salesmen Begin Campaign

Campus Wide Drive Now Being Staged By Yearbook Staff

A campus-wide drive for down payments on the 1939 Gael, student year book published by the junior class began its fifth day this morning.

It is reported by Pete Sedar, sales manager, that a majority of freshmen have indicated their intention of purchasing their Gaels with a small payment, and many have wisely paid in full.

Yearbook sales among the other classes are progressing at a satisfactory rate with sophomores leading, and it is expected that a rapid increase will follow with the normal resumption of school activities.

"We are getting an early start on the book this year," says Peter LoBianco, editor, "and with the generous support we are getting, we can look forward to a successful publication."

Appointments Made

The sales force under Peter Sedar and August Gaspar will include Lavine Bettencourt, Romolo Brussati, Albert Lingua, Francis Maderas, and David Cunningham.

Leo Pedemont Wins Scholarship

Athletic Trainer's Study in Chemistry to Continue at Creighton

Development of parchment from the shells of cocoa beans, won Leo Richard Pedemont, pre-medical graduate from Emeryville, one of the five prizes offered chemists for research by the New York Cocoa Exchange, it was learned here this week.

As a result of his discovery that parchment paper that equalled the finest vellum could be manufactured from the cocoa by-product, Pedemont has been awarded a scholarship in chemical research at Creighton University, Omaha, Nebraska.

In addition he received a cash prize and his paper is to be published for distribution to members of the Cocoa Exchange.

Many Enter Contest

Judges for the competition which was entered by chemists in 250 colleges were the president of Columbia University, the chief chemist of DuPont company and one member of the New York Cocoa Exchange.

Judges, in making the award, complimented Pedemont on his thorough research which required countless attempts, and termed the excellence of training in chemistry "outstanding and examplary."

Eucharistic Fete Will Take Place On First Friday

Devotions of the annual Archdiocesan Eucharistic Congress are to be held in the students' chapel Friday, September 2.

Students will receive Communion in a body in the morning and special services will be held in the afternoon.

The Eucharistic services will be tribute of the faith and devotion to the Eucharistic Christ in reparation for outrages against religion in other lands during the past year.

Frosh to Paint Mount Van 'SM' Red Before Brawl

Sophomores Buy Paint, Sullivan Tells Council At Initial Meeting

Mount Van's "S.M.", erected by the senior class of May, 1938, will be given its first coat of paint next week, President John L. Sullivan notified the executive council at its first session of the year yesterday noon.

"The sophomore class will purchase sufficient red paint for the freshmen to do a good job before next Thursday's brawl," Sullivan announced.

Karl Kaiser, sophomore president, has promised Sullivan that the paint will be purchased early next week and will be given to the yearlings just as soon as it reaches the campus.

Besides giving the cement "S.M." its initial coat of paint—it will be the first coat unless the Golden Bears beat the freshies to the punch—under the supervision of the sophomores the frosh will rid the site of the "S.M." of all weeds.

Argument prevailed among council members as to the color of the paint to be used. Secretary William Kirkham suggested one letter be painted red and the other blue. President Sullivan disagreed, however, remarking that a "noted local architect" believed it would be better to paint both letters red so as to offer a contrast to the white of the buildings.

'Red' Motion Passed

William Bettercourt's motion to paint both letters red was seconded and passed unanimously.

Old business from last year came to the front when Alvin Quittman suggested a budget committee be appointed. William Glackin, chairman of the student legislature, appointed a committee consisting of Joseph Donnelly, William Spehar and Leo Haggerty to prepare a budget for the 1938-1939 college year, after a motion to the effect by Bettencourt had been passed.

According to the motion passed, the committee must hold an open meeting, the date of which will be announced in THE COLLEGIAN. At this open meeting, the committee will hear pleas for moneys from the various student organizations.

Committee Named

Ernie Russo, chief yell leader, appeared before the council and announced the personnel of his California rally-dance committee as follows: Assistant Yell leaders Dave Cunningham and Roy Sarment, Richard Hester, Walter Weber and Bettencourt.

Russo told the council next week he would price the cost of three megaphones for the yell leaders and also the cost of three sweaters.

When Bettencourt asked Chairman Glackin who was going to bear the cost of the megaphones and the sweaters, no definite answer was received. Which brought about the appointment of Russo and Bettencourt to interview the two faculty members of the board of athletic control, Brother Patrick and Professor Louis LeFevre, concerning the matter.

A committee to study the student body constitution probably will be appointed at the next meeting of the legislative body next Wednesday at 12:20 p.m.

Annual Benefit Picnic-Barbecue At Napa Sunday

The Christian Brothers' Novitiate, Mont La Salle, is holding its Fourth Annual Barbecue and Picnic on Sunday, August 28, at Napa.

Thousands are expected to join in the festivities, the proceeds of which will go into a fund for the novitiate. Tickets are 50 cents and you are all asked to bring your own fork and knife. Brother Edwin is chairman of the big event.

Sacramento Line Announces Slight Schedule Changes

Because of technical difficulties in routing trains from the San Francisco-Oakland bridge, the Sacramento Northern railroad announced a slight change in morning train schedules.

To arrive in time for 9:00 o'clock classes, students must leave San Francisco at 7:40 and Oakland at 8:10 a. m.

All other schedules remain the same. Students commuting from San Francisco must change trains at 40th and Shafter Streets in Oakland.

Brother Albert Welcomes Faculty And Students

At the beginning of another scholastic year I extend to the faculty and students, old and new, a hearty welcome, and my sincerest wishes for success in the work in which we are all engaged.

I urge the incoming students especially to make their first strides in college education in the proper direction, by taking every advantage of the opportunities which Saint Mary's, by reason of its size and aims, provides. By keeping a close and cordial contact with their instructors and fellow-students the freshmen will come to learn and love the educational, moral and social elements which go into the making of a real Saint Mary's man.

As I have so often said before, the end-product of any education worth while is a personality. Though the process of education is long and often tedious, Saint Mary's has for many years patiently pursued its aim of moulding its students into Christian gentlemen, who have had their intelligences sharpened by close contact with the arts and the sciences, who have learned to revere their nation and respect its laws as upstanding citizens, and who realize their obligations to their fellow-men and to their Creator.

At the outset of this semester, let each and every one of us, from the President down, resolve to do his part in building such a personality in himself and in others.

May God in His goodness prosper the work.

BROTHER ALBERT
President of Saint Mary's College.

Faculty Changes Announced

New Economics Head Appointed to Succeed Professor Loosely

Appointments and changes in the college for the ensuing year were announced this week by Brother Albert, president of the College.

Professor Henry J. Newsom, noted British-India mining engineer, is to assume charge of the department of engineering. Professor Newsom was a major in the British Engineering Corps in the World War, and was connected with the British Work Department in India. He received his master's degree at Manchester University, India, and has taught in La Martimiere College, Lucknow, India; Cumardupi Mining school, Bengal, India; and Golden Gate College, San Francisco.

New Economics Head

Head of the school of economics will be Brother Jerome, who will be assisted by Professor Theodore L. Clack, University of California, and Walter H. Keller, of the University of California, and Armstrong College, Berkeley.

Other changes are Brother Julius of Sacred Heart, head of the Spanish department and director of Aquinas Hall; Brother Victor, former principal Sacred Heart College, San Francisco, recorder; Brother Ralph, assistant chemistry instructor and dean of freshmen; Brother Virgil, publications moderator; Brother Bede Edward, head of department of education and province representative; and Malcolm Fiese, freshman football coach.

Dr. Murphy, Saint Mary's graduate, succeeds Dr. Guinan as college physician. Dr. Murphy was graduated from University of California medical school in 1931 and for the past three years was resident physician at Providence hospital, Oakland. He was also transport surgeon in the United States army and has been connected with insurance medical groups in Northern California.

Graduates of Class Of '38 to Enter Seminary Soon

Saint Mary's colors will give way to the priestly cassock when two graduates of last year, Victor Wilkiemeyer and James Walsh enter the Seminary September 10.

Wilkiemeyer, former grand knight of the Knights of Columbus and Walsh, former president of the Economics Association will begin their second year of philosophy, after which they will study theology for four years.

The two, upon completing their studies, will be ordained in five years.

Former classmates are invited to visit them at the Seminary at Menlo Park, Father Joseph I. Manning, chaplain, announced.

Post-Cal Game Dance Heads Sullivan's Plans

Student Body Meeting May Be Held Wed., Undergraduates Vote

Announcing his intention to adhere to every point in his platform as stated last semester John L. Sullivan, student body president, outlined his plans for the fall term.

Of major importance socially is a post-game dance, after the Saint Mary's-California football game September 24. To determine whether the students want such an affair, a vote will be taken at a student body meeting tentatively set for Wednesday, Sullivan announced.

At this meeting, a vote will also be taken in regards to the possibility of a student body raffle, Sullivan indicated.

Card Campaign Planned

An extensive student body card sale campaign under the direction of Norman McPhail, treasurer, will be inaugurated when the cards appear on the campus Monday. The cards, to sell for $2.50, were designed by William Kirkham.

For the ensuing week, a committee under the chairmanship of William Glackin, ASSMC vice-president, will act as senior advisers for freshmen, aiding them in arranging programs.

Block SM members will guide freshman athletes in their choice of studies. The public relations office under Havelock Hunter is cooperating with this group of advisers.

A tour of the freshman dormitory was made by a group under Sullivan to aid students with their programs. Freshmen were advised by the president that "air in the dormitories is free and was not being sold by sophomores."

Appointment Made

Other appointments by Sullivan found Ernest Russo, head yell leader, as chairman of a Cal-rally dance, and August Gaspar, junior class president, chairman of a raffle committee.

Touching briefly the various points in his platform, Sullivan indicated an increased activity in dramatics and radio. He is planning a conference with William Simon, debate coach, and Joseph McCarthy, senior student, concerning an increased dramatic program. He intends to collaborate with some of the bay area women's colleges in this respect.

A radio commissioner will be appointed, Sullivan stated, who will be given power to introduce and conduct programs through Oakland and San Francisco radio stations. Although radio was a dead issue last year, Sullivan expressed great hopes of a successful air program this year.

Will Publish Constitution

Adhering to his platform, within the next two weeks mimeographed copies of the Saint Mary's College constitution will be distributed to every student in the school.

Sullivan concluded his plans with the announcement that greater than usual precautions will be taken to protect the water tanks and the Block SM on Mount Van from marauding Californians.

Students Will Poll Votes in Campus Precinct Tuesday

Campus voters will take over the COLLEGIAN office Tuesday, August 30, when they poll their votes in the primary election.

The Saint Mary's precinct will be managed by Mr. Adams, chief clerk.

Annual Holy Ghost Mass Here Monday Morning at 9:15

A Mass of the Holy Ghost, a traditional annual affair, will be celebrated by Reverend Joseph I. Manning, student chaplain, Monday morning at 9:15.

The faculty will march in academic procession to the High Mass and the entire student body will attend, Father Manning stated.

Local clergy will assist at the Mass. Reverend Jean M. Ribeyron will conduct the Student Brothers' choir.

Altar boys for the Mass have not been named as yet.

Bartley P. Oliver Presents Paintings

Valuable Collection Of 44 Paintings and Statuary Received

A valuable collection of paintings and statuary, comporable to collections in the best of art galleries, greeted students entering the library, De LaSalle lounge, dining halls, and Administration building reception rooms this week.

The collection, comprising 44 paintings, four marble busts, and four marble statues, as well as a stained glass window, were obtained through Bartley P. Oliver, '73, oldest living Saint Mary's alumnus.

Possessed by Count Oliver

Originally possessed by Denis J. Oliver, an uncle of the Saint Mary's graduate, the collection includes many valuable and original paintings. Oliver, more generally known as Count Oliver, was made knight of Saint Gregory, grand knight of Saint Gregory, and papal count by Pius IX, and papal marquis by Leo XIII.

Most expensive of the paintings exhibited is one entitled "Venice by Moonlight" and is valued at $1000. The artist's name is not given.

Three paintings each are valued at $500: "St. Cecilia" after Romanelli, "Marine" after Salvator Rosa, and "Valley of the Arno," an original by G. Lega.

Others of the most expensive are "Madonna of the Rosary" after Murillo, valued at $400; "Abraham's Sacrifice" after Allori, "Gethsemani" and "Savior of the World" after Carlo Dolci, the latter three valued at $300 each.

Ten by Marani

The greatest number by one artist are those of Marani, all ten of which are originals. Marani's works include "God the Father," "Saint Polycarp and the Trinity," "Four Doctors of the Church and Madonna," "Saint Peter Damian," "Saint Gregory the Great," "Saint Ildephonsus," "Saint Leander," "Christian Martyr," "Saint Benedict," and "Saint Benedict and Trinity."

Other originals among the various works are Annibale Carracci's "Head of Saint Frances," "Carlo Maratti's "Madonna of Saint Dominic," and Conti's "Hope."

The artist Guido Reni is represented by four paintings, "Ecce Homo," "Salome," "Portrait of Cardinal Orsini," and "Aurora," the latter valued at $250.

The remainder of the collection includes Titian's "Coin of Tribute," Boranni's "On the Tiber," Rembrandt's "Pilate Washing His Hands," Marko's "View Near Sienna," Murillo's "Madonna with Jesus on Knee," and "Judith," Correggio's "Madonna," Canaletto's "Piazza San Marco," Andrea del Sarto's "Saint Gregory the Great," and Luigi Viviani's "I Promessi Sposi."

Artists Unknown

Works whose painters are not given are "Interior of Saint Peter's," "Sacred

Few Things New Under Sun, Says Scribe After Viewing Initiation

By Bill Glackin

This year's freshman initiation, now in full swing, made news this week only by virtue of the fact that it proved again the old premise that there are few things new under the sun—or a sophomore's head.

Impartial observers failed to discover a single noteworthy variation on the time-worn theme of freshman subservience to the sophomore will. The class of '41, either still stymied by the summer's mental inactivity or frightened by the size of this freshman class, could think of nothing for their charges to do other than the standard jobs of shinging shoes, making beds, and polishing cars.

Lack of organization was, as usual, the factor that seem to prevent any worm-turning activities on the part of the new men. Although they outnumber their tormentors by almost two to one, the frosh have so far offered not even passive resistance to the sophomores.

Sole exception to this well-established rule came about when a few first-year men, angered by Murray Brannen's using two inoffensive freshmen for guinea pigs in his tonsorial experiments, kidnapped the offending sophomore and dealt him some of his own medicine, plus one or two prescriptions of their own.

Sticking to their policy of presenting nothing unusual, the sophomores will conduct the kangaroo court and aquatic procession on successive nights next week, with the brawl to follow.

Sophomore viewpoint regarding the brawl has undergone a marked change since last year, all second year men insisting that this year's Field Day will come off as scheduled.

Traditional Brawl Ne[xt Thursday] Or[n Agnon Field]

4-Way Swim Meet In Morning Initiates Program; Name Heads

Bringing to a close the traditional freshman-sophomore hostilities of more than a week, the annual brawl of the lower classes will be held on Agnon field next Thursday afternoon, Norman (Red) Strader and Mal Fiese, co-faculty chairmen of the day, announced last night.

Prior to the brawl in the afternoon, the annual four-way inter-class swimming meet will take place in the Madigan gymnasium pool Thursday morning.

George Dooley, intramural sports manager, will handle the acquatic activities of the day, it was announced.

Name Committee

A brawl committee consisting of Block SM President Joseph Hurley, Herb Smith, George Carter, August Gaspar, Bill Bettencourt, and Joseph Crosby has been appointed by President John L. Sullivan.

The committee will meet with Strader and Fiese before the brawl to formulate plans for the brawl and swimming meet.

Rules and regulations for the brawl and meet will be determined by the committee at its meetings.

The morning's swimming meet is expected to attract much attention this year because of the large turnout last spring for the minor sports swim squad.

Many Swim Stars

Among the better campus swimmers and divers are Dan O'Neill and Richard Hester of the senior class; Al Speckens and Art Williams. Juniors: Frank Sanders and Don Cramer, sophomores.

Freshman talent is unknown.

On the program is expected to be 50 and 100-yard dashes, back stroke and free style; back diving, jack knife, swan, and high and low diving, Strader and Fiese announced.

Times for the swimming meet and brawl have not been announced yet.

Frosh Class May Be Largest Since Depression Years

With 113 new students already having taken their entrance examinations, present indications point to the largest enrollment in the freshman class in the history of the college. As yet, a final check in the registration has not been available from the Recorder's office.

Fourteen high schools and junior colleges from the bay area were represented in the first week of registration: Sacred Heart College high, Saint Peter's, Polytechnic high, George Washington, Saint James, San Francisco; Marin Junior college, Kentfield; Oakland high, Saint Mary's, Saint Elizabeth, Oakland; Alhambra high, Martinez; San Mateo junior college; Mt. Diablo high, Contra Costa county, San Rafael, and San Leandro.

New students also matriculated from Salt Lake City, Utah; Pocatello, Idaho; Miani, Arizona; Chicago, Illinois; Denver, Colorado; Galen, Montana; Flagstaff, Arizona; Crested Butte, Colorado; and Evanston, Illinois.

Brickpile Editor Asks for Signup Of Writers Monday

A special meeting of veteran and prospective writers for The Brickpile, undergraduate magazine, will be held at 12:20 Monday in D-114, Editor Paul Johnson announced yesterday.

Lower classmen especially are urged to attend Monday's meeting, although juniors and seniors are desired for editorial and managerial positions, Johnson said.

With this semester, The Brickpile begins its third year of publication. The first edition, under the editorship of Frank Martin, appeared during the 1936-1937 regime of President Joseph Alioto.

Robert Mark succeeded Martin last year but later resigned because of off-campus duties. The APGU, campus honor society and sponsor of the magazine, appointed Johnson as editor the publication to succeed Ma

Gael Gossip

by Jim Brady, Collegian Sports Editor

GET this, you All-American prognosticators. Jerry Dowd, regular Varsity center last season, led all kickers in the entire nation in three departments.

According to the Amrican Football Statistics Bureau, Dowd punted the greatest number of times, the greatest amount of yards, and had the third highest average. With another year's experience under his belt, he should again outdistance the field this season.

Jerry Dowd

Two of the nation's highest rated teams, Fordham and Santa Clara, both undefeated, picked Dowd on their all-opponent teams. The men who played opposite him on those two teams, Wojiechowicz and Daugherty, both were named on All-American elevens.

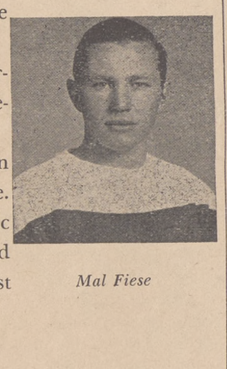
Who Is Ruetz?

A quote from last year's edition of the All-American football annual: "This seems to be the era of economic and athletic self-sufficiency. In keeping with the age, South Bend, the seat of Notre Dame, will have two local products in the Irish starting line, something that hasn't happened in years. Red-headed Ruetz, the first home-find, became a sensation at left-guard while still a sophomore, passed up a bid for national fame last season when a shortage of quarterbacks led to his transfer to that difficult post. Though he quickly mastered the fine points of his new position, Ruetz mostly wore the blanket throughout '36. This fall finds him tending bar again in his old favorite left guard sport."

And he played it so well that he was chosen to play in the all-star game in Chicago August 30. This excerpt should satisfactorily answer the question now rampant on the campus.

New Frosh Coach

It will be rather a novel experience for Mal Fiese when be begins his coaching here at Moraga. At Regis College, where he has just finished a two-year term as headman, there was seldom a turnout large enough to make up two teams.



Mal Fiese

Here he will have at least forty and perhaps more to work with in forming a representative frosh team.

Similar to the Elmer and Mike Layden combination, will be Mal and Bob Fiese. Bob was named All-Coast Counties Athletic League halfback for the last two years, and is expected to be one of his brother's most promising pupils.

Midnight Marauders

Due to a storm of protest from feminine football fans, it is extremely doubtful that the 1938 edition of the Galloping Gaels (or Macabre Moragans) will appear in black outfits with gold helmets and socks.

Another factor in the probable rejection of the blacks is the extreme heat which is encountered in early season games in this section. The temperature in the Strawberry Canyon stadium is well over 80 degrees every year, and a maximum of efficiency will be necessary to avenge the overwhelming defeat by the California Bears in 1937. It is well known that black draws and holds heat much more than the lighter colors.

However, it is practically certain that new suits will be furnished the Gallopers, no matter what the color and design. Already eleven bids have been submitted by tailors, dressmakers, and sporting goods outfits.

Broncs Face Defeat

With seven regulars lost by graduation, and one of the toughest schedules in years coming up for the Santa Clara Broncos, it looks as though they will go down to defeat for the first time since 1936. Having won 17 out of their last 18 games, many experts are picking them to top this section of the nation once again.

But in the past two years, the Bronco schedule hasn't included such teams as Texas A. & M., Arkansas, Michigan State, and Detroit. And on top of this, they must meet a vastly improved Gael eleven and Stanford. The cards are all against another undefeated season, although we wish them luck on every date except November 13.

Items

Eighty-thousand, largest opening-day crowd in the nation, are expected for the Saint Mary's-California encounter.

Mike Klotovich worked as a grave-digger during the summer months.

Jerry Dowd made the society sections three times in the last three months, although putting in time as a laborer in the daytime.

This will be Slip's eighteenth year as head coach of the Gaels.

Saint Mary's has 69 grid coaches in th field, a number exceeded only by Notre Dame.

Owen Henson, frosh footballer, took a dive, but landed on his head at the bottom of the plunge.

It is rumored that Dr. Pat O'Callaghan, eminent Irish medico and wrestler, will soon appear on the campus a guest of Eire 0ge, Saint Mary's Irish club. It is further rumored that he will put on an exhibition bout with Karl (Shag-Shag) Orth.

Minor Sports Director Tells Year's Plans

Freshman Coach Urges Cooperation; Brawl Set for Thursday

Adding new impetus to the fast-growing minor sports program at Saint Mary's, Mal Fiese, new head freshman football coach and minor sports director, yesterday outlined his plans for the coming year.

"Cooperation will be the keynote of the program this year," he stated. "If those who are backward about coming out for the various branches of athletics such as swimming, boxing, golf, track, etc. would banish their fears, we might be able to put over minor sports as the other institutions of the state have done."

The freshman-sophomore brawl, which until last year had been held regularly every fall and had become part of the tradition of Moraga, will be in danger of being discarded unless undertaken enthusiastically by those vitally concerned, the freshman and sophomores. The date of the brawl has been named as Thursday, September 1.

In the morning, swimming events will be held, with members of all classes eligible to take part. It is the wish of Mal Fiese that all those interested would take part in several events. During the year, those who are unable to swim will be given lessons.

Boxing, which had a start last year in a meet with the CYO, in which the Gaels won out, will be a feature of the program. Jack Williams, Henry Neutzel, and others who won their bouts

Eleven States Send Grid Stars to Frosh Squad

By Bill Spehar

Harvesting a bumper crop of frosh footballers, Saint Mary's football stock for 1939 soared to a record high. Forty-six strapping ex-prepsters, averaging close to 200 pounds apiece, signed up yesterday.

Coach Slip Madigan was very enthusiastic about the squad, remarking that this was the finest crop of Gael material since 1933. At any rate the new Gaels sound impressive on paper.

Eleven states contributed their best material to the Red and Blue squad which contains 16 former high school captains, and at least forty of the candidates were All-State or "all" something or other in their respective localities.

The prize package and most awe-inspiring of the lot is Jim McPartland, a blocking back who was twice selected for all-city honors in tough Chicago. McPartland, one of the most sought after prepsters in the country, weighs 195 and stands six feet.

Jim's twin brother, John, weighing five pounds less, is also registered here. He plays end.

From San Francisco's all-city eleven the Gaels received five aces in Al Ward, 210-pound tackle from Poly; Nick Seminoff, a halfback from Commerce; Jack Moore, 200-pound end from Poly; Joe Brady, Balboa's hard-hitting right half, and Clark Keyer, 175-pounder from Sacred Heart.

Greater Oakland contributed two all-Eastbay choices in Don Mackin, 175 pound guard from Saint Mary's high, Berkeley, and Owen Henson, Richmond's 205-pound center.

Southern California sent Madigan six delegates, not one of whom weighs less than 190, and John Muldoon, tackle from Oxnard, goes up to 230.

Los Angeles' best is Ken Snelling, 195-pound fullback and a unanimous all-LA selection. Joe Crawford represents 200 pounds of Santa Barbara's best tackle, and Dario Castagnola, of similar size, rated as high in Santa Ana.

From Salinas comes Bill Fiese, brother of Freshman Coach Mal Fiese. Bill rated as all-county choice. Bob Brusati, Gael varsity end, also has a brother in the freshman ranks, John, who threatens to outdo him.

From Lone Pine hails a full-blooded Yaqui Indian, Ojo Ojeda, who is a "cinch for All-American honors." He stands five foot ten and weighs 180 pounds.

Earl Sheely, coach of the Phoenix, has a son, Earl Jr., a 185-pounder, on the squad. He plays quarterback.

Illinois with four contributions and Colorado with three, lead Saint Mary's out-of-state benefactors. Texas, Ohio, Pennsylvania, South Dakota, Montana, Arizona, Oregon, and Idaho are all represented.

Intramural Manager Announces Tourney Date

A new era has dawned for intramural sports at Saint Mary's with the election of George Dooley to the post of manager.

Dooley has great plans for the interclass sports if the funds are available.

Early next month, on September 6, the softball tourney will get under way. The complete schedule will be published next week. Dooley will act as mediator, and will officiate at all games. "There will be no postponements," he announced. "The teams that fail to put in an appearance at the appointed times will be forced to default, or to play the game with the number of players that show up."

Dooley will also endeavor to stage tennis and golf meets, an innovation to interclass activities. If the golf and tennis tournaments fail to materialize, a handball competition will take place.

It has been the custom in the spri to have an unofficial hardball meet b tween the classes, and Dooley intend to give this official recognition.

No managers have been named a yet, but the list will appear in next week's COLLEGIAN.

SHADOWING the GAELS

By Tom Feeney, Ass't. Sports Ed.

Hidden in the recent coaches' poll lies a tale of a man's nation-wide popularity.

The withdrawal of Stub Allison from the contest diverted most of the attention away from the race, so that it merely became a secondary news story until the final tally. However, an examination of the results shows that Slip Madigan finished eighteenth behind only Allison, and ahead of such noteworthies as Jimmy Phelan, Howard Jones, and Buck Shaw.

Strangely, though, Slip without any campaign, without any support exhorting people to vote for him, ranked as the coast's second choice in the poll.

It is interesting to note that the votes came from every area, showing the public esteem for Slip.

Sweat of the Brow (?)

Perhaps Cal made the noose that night hang their '38 football season, when they oked Wally Garard's eligibility for this year's campaign.

Wally disappeared mysteriously from the "dream team" two years ago and this year decided to enroll again.

His eligibility might relieve Slip's worry over one of the line spots.

Drama is developing now, for should Garard be instrumental in upsetting the Bears they will regret this move.

What some of the athletes do to earn a few pennies!

Jack Sims, gridder and pitcher, had one of the more difficult summer jobs in which he was employed in a lumber camp in Northern California and had to chauffeur the boss's daughter around.

Bill Murphy, Phoenix outfielder, was host to all guests at a lumber mill in Scotia when he wasn't punching singles.

And they also tell me, that Peter Sedar, Gael guard, occupied his summertime as a "G" man.

New Masseur

September 1st will usher in a new liniment and methiolate trainer when Frank O'Rourke replaces Leo Pedemont as trainer of Gael athletes.

With several concoctions of his own and new methods of slapping on tape, O'Rourke will have his hands full during the current football season.

He hails from Oakland and has had experience in naval and bay region hospitals.

Erdelatz Episode

It should suffice to end all rumors about the Erdelatz episode to say that the dismissal was only the result of economy measures. No one was more likeable, nor had a better future in coaching circles that smiling Eddie.

No one was appointed to succeed him because there was no position. In a nut shell, Ruetz does not replace Erdelatz!

Last year Slip was burdened with extra office tasks that cut down his time on the field and necessitated a full-time assistant. But this has been corrected now, so that there is no need for the position. In other words, the job has been eliminated.

Erdelatz is helping a local brewing company at present, but will undoubtedly hook on with some school soon, because coaches like him don't come a dime a dozen.

Sports Chaff . . .

Joe Ruetz, ex-Notre Dame guard, will divide his coaching between the freshmen and varsity squads at Saint Mary's, as well as study at California for his secondary diploma.

Mal Fiese, Freshman football coach, has been nursing an idea to install a golf-range for driving practice near the train depot. Actually he expects to start work on this range next week. A New Deal for golfers!

You must, for he is the prep ace that stood a packed Soldiers' Field on their heads last fall. Well, the hunt is over and the scouts can return home for he's headed for Northwestern U.

Speaking of prep aces, Brune Konopka, Colorado three-sport star, is mixing football and basketball to pursue a promising baseball future at USC.

Wally Garard Reenters College

Eligibility Doubtful; No Decision Reached

Wally Garard, Gael tackle who left school in 1936, has registered again at the Moraga institution, but whether or not he will be eligible to play this fall has not as yet been announced.

Garard was a member of the "dream team" but failed to finish the season. He was considered by many Coast observers to be the superior of Bob Herwig, California center who made All-American.

If the giant center is declared eligible to play this year he will have a fine chance to make mythical honors.

San Jacinto High Signs Dennerlein

Jerry Dennerlein, giant Saint Mary's tackle who made many All-Coast teams in 1936, has been signed to coach the San Jacinto high school team in Southern California.

Since graduation, Dennerlein has been playing professional football, holding down his favorite position with Brooklyn in the National Professional football league.

Ex-Gael Guard Appointed Coach

Ernie Jorge, former outstanding guard of the Saint Mary's Varsity, has been signed to coach the Christian Brothers football team at Sacramento.

Jorge succeeds Les Groux, who was appointed head grid mentor of the Taft union high school.

Conlan Pitches For Marysville

Tom Conlan, ex-pitcher of the Saint Mary's Phoenix, during the past two months has been hurling for the Marysville Giants of the Sacramento Valley League.

During the season Conlan has pitched two two-hit games.

Vic Bottari

California's ace backfield man smashes through for a long gain against Washington State in the game played last season. Bottari will be seen in action again this season, when Bears meet Gaels.

Frosh Coach Tells Plans for 1938-39

will be back this year to attempt to restore the pugilistic art to its former high place on the Moraga campus.

The tennis team, which suffered some few reverses last semester, is again ready to go to the ears and will welcome new additions to its ranks.

Such tee stars as Eddie Burns, Art Williams, Bill Dooms, Bill Glackin and others will again take on all comers in the Bay area. Golf is on the rise here for the first time, and there are many enthusiastic freshman to carry on the good work.

Intramural Head Tells Tourney Date

Another feature will be intercollegiate competition, with Saint Mary's intramural champs meeting the winners from Santa Clara, USF, and other Bay area colleges.

Frosh Gridder Receives Head Injuries in Dive

Owen Henson, freshman football player, received head injuries Wednesday afternoon while diving into the Madigan gym swimming pool. The resident nurse, Miss Mary Helen Long, reports that his injury is not serious.

Mike Mazaika, Varsity quarterback, who recently had been confined in the infirmary, was released two weeks ago but is still reporting for treatment. He split his tongue when a car in which he was riding turned over.

Little Gaels Open Local Grid Season

The 1938 grid season will officially open in this territory next Saturday, when the Saint Mary's High Panthers face the Commerce Bulldogs at the former's field.

Commerce is heavily favored to win over the Berkeley team. Kickoff is at 2:30.

GAEL GRIDDERS BACK MURPHY FOR GOVERNOR

Athletes Active in Murphy for Governor Campaign

Under the leadership of J. Philip Murphy of the class of '29, an association of former Saint Mary's football players has been actively campaigning throughout the summer months to further the campaign of Daniel C. Murphy in his fight for the Democratic nomination for Governor of the State of California.

To list the names of those football players active in this movement would be to list the stars of the past who have joined with Phil in his father's behalf as many of them did in the seasons of 1925, '26, '27, and '28, during which time Phil played right tackle for Slip's varsity on such teams as the 1926 squad which defeated California 26 to 7 and the 1927 squad which defeated Stanford 16 to 0. By a peculiar coincidence during the seasons of '26 and '27 Phil played directly opposite his older brother, Dan, Jr., captain of the USF varsity, (then St. Ignatius College).

Upon graduation in 1929 J. Philip Murphy became engaged in the contracting business, specializing in reinforcing steel, and at present is President of the J. Philip Murphy Corporation.

Since 1931 Phil has been a Director of the Saint Mary's College Alumni Association and early this year, after the reorganization and reincorporation of the new Saint Mary's College, he was appointed by Brother Albert to the Board of Athletic Control which, in cooperation with Slip Madigan, is directing the athletic destinies of Saint Mary's College.

It was a comparatively simple matter to interest the former players of Saint Mary's, many of whom are coaches and teachers at the present time, in the campaign of Daniel C. Murphy, who, because of his position as a member of the California State Board of Education for the past six years and of the San Francisco Board of Education for eleven years, was instrumental in advising and helping many of these same athletes in the teaching profession.

Because of Daniel C. Murphy's association with Saint Mary's College and his vast experience and sincere interest in the advancement of education, many Saint Mary's men are supporting him in his campaign for Governor and they feel that he should be the choice of EVERY Saint Mary's man.

WHY DANIEL C. MURPHY FOR GOVERNOR?

For those who do not understand the great popularity and large following of Senator Murphy a brief history of his life and public service follows:

Born in San Francisco, graduated from Washington High School and took up the support of widowed mother.

Years of hard, heavy work as teamster and longshoreman were followed by twenty years in newspaper printing pressmens trade.

Always an earnest worker for education. Was a member of San Francisco Board of Education for eleven years. At present and for last six years a member of State Board of Education.

Prominent in business and financial circles, culminating in 14 years as Vice-President of Bank of America. A member of the San Francisco Public Utilities Commission for four years.

Elected Senator and served for eight years always maintaining his keen interest in education and the laboring man.

Served as member of State Emergency Relief Administration.

Served as member of Federal Mediation Board.

A national elector for President Roosevelt.

By an overwhelming majority at last election was made Sheriff of San Francisco County.

HISTORY

Two subjects have been uppermost with Senator Murphy all through his life—EDUCATION and HUMANITY. He has served both with vigor and enthusiasm. He insists that the youth of America is entitled to the best education possible and that the laboring man and the aged shall share generously in what our great state affords its citizens.

In addition to his service on the San Francisco and State Boards of Education, as a member of the Senate Committee on Education, he drafted and labored for the passage of legislation designed to benefit teachers and to establish greater security for competent teachers. He also supported all legislation to improve education.

Continuously since boyhood Senator Murphy has been an ardent advocate of and worker in LABOR UNIONS. He served as president of Web Pressmen's Union, Allied Printing Trades Council, San Francisco Labor Council and five years as president of California State Federation of Labor. He has been delegate to many conventions of American Federation of Labor and International Pressmen's Union and for twenty-five years has attended conventions of State Federation of Labor.

Was a member of the first Social Security Commission which brought out the necessity of OLD AGE PENSION, child welfare and care of the needy. Was author of innumerable bills to provide a more humane method of handling the incompetent and feeble minded, the blind and the deaf.

LEGISLATIVE RECORD IN PART

Initiated OLD AGE PENSION legislation in California and supported all such legislation continuously during his attendance.

Author of first law limiting the hours of employment of women workers.

Author of first law regulating employment agencies.

He wrote and worked for Tenure and Sabbatical Leave for Teachers.

One of the authors of first 10 million Veterans' Home and Farm Loan Bond issue; also the 20 million issue.

Member of State Banking Committee that worked out the laws to safeguard banks and their depositors.

Author of bill to assist persons of modermen's Compensation.

Strong advocate of Civil Service.

Author of bill to assist persons of moderate means to acquire homesteads on the installment plan.

Author of bill allowing state to acquire groves of redwoods for public use.

Charles Flanagan Drowns While Swimming Here

Moonlight Dip Proves Fatal to Junior Student from Montana

Charles Flanagan, junior student from Great Falls, Montana, was drowned in the college pool this summer while taking a moonlight swim. With him at the time of the tragedy was James "Bud" Shea, pre-medical graduate with the class of '38.

The coroner's inquest revealed suffiocation by drowning as the primary cause of Flanagan's death; the secondary cause weakness occasioned by the shock of entering the cold water.

Returning From Dance

Flanagan and Shea were returning from a dance when they decided to go for a swim in the early morning hours. After climbing out of the pool and drying himself, Shea noticed that Flanagan was missing. Running to the dormitories he awakened Father Eugene Shea, C.Y.O. chaplain, and Bill Fischer, director of the C.Y.O. encampment, who aided him in recovering the body from the pool bottom.

An inhalator squad from the Oakland Fire Department worked over Flanagan for two hours, but failed to revive him. Father Shea administered the last rites to the drowned man.

Transfer from Montana State

Flanagan's body was claimed by his father who arrived here by airplane from Great Falls. The body was sent home for burial following the inquest which was conducted by Coroner C. L. Abbott of Contra Costa county.

Flanagan was a transfer here from Montana State, and was attending summer session at the University of California at the time of the accident.

The tragedy was the second to occur on this campus since 1928 when the college moved to its present site.

Many Jobs Open For Qualified Men by State

Complete bulletins outlining the duties of each of the above positions in some detail and application blanks can be secured from the State Personnel Board offices in Sacramento, San Francisco and Los Angeles.

Knights to Combat Anti-Catholic Propaganda

Through the interest of Victer Wilkiemeyer, a graduate of last year, a radio program of records will be employed by the anti-Catholic propaganda of the Judge Rutherford radio program.

These records, secured from a priest of the Benedictian order, will be broadcast immediately after the program sponsored by Jehovah's Witnesses, a Protestant sect headed by Rutherford.

The plan, which has the Archbishop's approval, originated with Wilkiemeyer and the local council of Knights. It was suggested to the San Francisco chapter by Wilkiemeyer. Funds have already been collected for the project, which will begin soon.

The San Francisco chapter of Knights is comprised of delegates from all other councils in that city.

Commuter's Time To SF Will Be Cut By Bay Bridge Rails

Operation of Sacramento Northern trains directly into San Francisco over the Bay Bridge is almost certain, H. A. Mitchell, president of the company, stated recently following the approval of the California Toll Bridge Authority for such operation.

Sacramento Northern equipment is now being revamped to meet the rigid safety requirements required of trains using the span, Mitchell said.

Agreements still have to be negotiated with other parties, but no difficulty is expected, the Sacramento Northern head added.

Bartley P. Oliver Donates Paintings

Heart with Saint Margaret Mary," "Gladstone," "Landscape," "Pius IX," "Pius IX Giving Blessing," and "Seville Fair." None of the paintings in the latter groups named are originals.

Statuary donated includes marble busts of Pius IX and Leo XIII, of Marquis Oliver and of his wife. Three marble statutes, Faith, Hope, and Charity, as well as another unnamed statue and several pedestals are also included. A stained glass window completes the collection.

ALUMNI NOTES

With this, the first issue of THE COLLEGIAN fo rthe new school year, the officers of your association, through the office of the president in the person of Andrew F. Burke, extend their best wishes for your personal success and trust that you will cooperate with them for the continued success of your alma mater.

It is to be noted that it is the policy of the alumni association to send the first issue of this paper to all members who have been active members in any of the past few years. This policy will be discontinued with the present issue and henceforth the COLLEGIAN will be sent only to those members who are active for the current year. In other words, unless you are an active member of the association for the year 1938-39 this is the last issue of the COLLEGIAN which you will receive.

Of course, the only requirement for active membership is the payment of dues. These are fixed on a sliding scale dependent upon the number of years since graduation or leaving college. This scale is as follows:

First and second year, $1 ('37 and '38)
Third and fourth year, $2 ('35 and '36)
Fifth and sixth year, $3 ('33 and '34)
Seventh, eighth years, $4 ('31 and '32)
Thereafter, $5.

Fully paid membership in the alumni association will make you the recipient of many valuable privileges besides the weekly COLLEGIAN, such as ticket preferences for athletic games. No such preferences will be accorded to members whose dues are not fully paid.

An additional privilege is being accorded active members this year through the cooperation of the athletic office. Paid-up alumni will receive in addition to the customary ticket preferences for reserved seat games, four tickets entitling them to sit with three of their friends in a special section reserved for them at the non-reserved seat games. This column will give further details with respect to the distribution and use of these tickets.

We feel that this year, more than any other, every loyal graduate or former student should wish to be an active member and thus actually assist in the fine work which is being done to assure the future welfare of the college.

During this year we expect the loyal support and assistance of all of our members. The fact that the financial problems have been solved, the enrollment increased, and the future of the college assured, lays the foundation for a period of unprecedented success and prosperity. To accomplish this, however, we need your support and cooperation and you can evidence it in no finer way than by paying your dues and taking an active interest in the work of those who are "endeavoring to guide our association."

Checks should be made payable to the Saint Mary's Alumni Association and sent to Saint Mary's College, California.

FOOTBALL LUNCHEONS

A joint committee of the alumni association and the Saint Mary's club will be organized to arrange for a football luncheon to be held in San Francisco to inaugurate the football season.

A similar affair is being planned by the Eastbay unit of the association to be held in Oakland.

The dates have not yet been definitely determined, but it is expected that they will be held a short time before the California game.

DIRECTORS' MEETING

The next meeting of the directors of the association will be held on Wednesday evening, September 7, at the home of President Andrew F. Burke. The officers and directors are cordially invited to be present on that date at 6:15 o'clock.

ALUMNUS TOURS EUROPE

We have been informed that a prominent member of the alumni, George McKeever '17, has left for an extended tour of Europe. We join in wishing him a pleasant journey, and we shall expect a complete report of his tour at a future meeting.

Publicity Head Moves Office To Old Bookstore

To aid students entering college in preparing their study cards, the office of public relations has been moved from Galileo hall to the south wing of the Administration building.

This office, under the direction of Mr. Havelock Hunter, handles the publicity and public relations of the college.

Mr. Hunter is head of the newly formed Journalism department of the Arts and Letters school. During the last six months he has been lecturing in high schools of California to potential students of St. Mary's College.

Many New Books Added to Library During Summer

During the summer months several hundred miscellaneous books have been added to the shelves of the school library. These are the gift of Andrew Johnson, member of the Saint Mary's Club, and include a very fine set of Daniel Defoe's works.

Among the books added to the library more recently are: "Lenin," by C. Hollis; "The Life of Elizabeth Seton," by L. Feeney; "Francisco Franco," by J. Arraras; "Hearken Unto the Voice," by F. Werfel; "The Church in the Nineteenth Century," by R. Corrigan; "Intrepretive Reporting," by C. D. MacDougall; and "Reporting News," by W. E. Hall. The last two deal with journalism and should be of interest to those interested in that particular line of work.

HIGHLIGHTS of SCIENCE

By Boyd Judd

While the average college student slumbered peacefully through the summer of 1938, a great many of our scientists seem to have busied themselves discovering new facts. Fitting and proper it is, therefore, to review a few of these new ideas.

Engineers of the Bell Telephone Laboratories announced recently that they have succeeded in developing a magnetic telephone that requires no battery or other source of outside electric current for its operation.

Successful development within five years is predicted for "windmill" aircraft, which are advantageous in that they can tage off almost straight up and can oehvr low over the ground.

Germany has added to her rapidly growing list of synthetic products a fish wool made from fish albumen and cellulose.

New Hangover Cure

A new cure—benzedrine sulfate—is announced for hangovers. (This is, of course, of no interest — other than purely scientific—to Saint Mary's students) . It has been discovered that such commercial products as Alka-Seltzer (adv.) , for example, are relatively useless for such a purpose.

Interesting as news to the average person was the world flight of Howard Hughes. Few people know, however, that Hughes' flight was planned and aided by the United States Army Air Corps, whose engineers were more than mildly interested in the premier test on a new mechanism—a mechanical computer of latitude and longitude—loaned to Hughes to be used for the first time in the history of navigation.

During the past summer, Dr. Urey of Columbia, who discovered heavy water, separated two brand-new isotopes: hitrogen of mass 15 and sulfur of mass 34.

Hence we see that the past months have been a fruitful period in the annuals of science. If we weren't so bashful we might ask Ernie Russo to lead a yell for the hard-working scientists of the summer of '38.

Lafayette Goes Wild West Over Horse Show

The Old West came back to life in La Fayette this week as everyone blossomed forth in Western attire, in preparation for the fourth annual fiesta and horse show. The Coronation Ball in the Town Hall this Friday will open the festivities which will come to a close late Sunday evening.

Hundreds of riders, all the principal breeds of saddle horses, floats, marching units and other features will be exhibited briefly to the public in two parades preceding the horse show programs on Saturday and Sunday. Both the Saturday and Sunday parades are slated to start at 11 a. m. The two-day horse show will get under way at 1 p. m. on the same days, at the arena on Moraga road, at the southern edge of town. The "Forty-niners" dance will be held Saturday evening.

Newman Club Bids Saint Mary's Men To Open House

An invitation to all Saint Mary's students to attend the semi-annual reception of the Newman club, being held tonight, was received here yesterday.

Scheduled to appear at the event are Brother Albert, president of the college, and Monroe E. Duetsch, vice-president and provost of the University of California.

The doors of the club house, on Ridge Road and La Loma, will be open for dancing and refreshments at 8:00 p.m. this evening.

Music will be provided by Milton Frank and his orchestra.

Shoe Store Features Collegiate Display

Window shoppers at the Peter Bros. Shoe Store, 1443 Broadway in Oakland, are aware of a definite collegiate and prep school atmosphere.

Two large show-windows, decorated with symbolic collegiate pennants, are responsible for this prevailing atmosphere, signifying the opening of high schools and colleges.

Hanging on the wall behind one show-window is a large block SM on which is painted the symbolic Gael. The letters stand two feet high. On the wall of the second show-window is placed a large "C" with a bear in the center.

Smaller pennants, accompanied by school symbols of all East Bay high schools and the Pacific Coast colleges and universities are placed around the show-windows.

Local Knights Seek to Raise Memorial Funds

Plans for Annual Retreat Movement To Be Discussed

Local Knights of Columbus will commence a fall term program of activity with a meeting Wednesday night under the direction of Deputy Grand Knight Herschel Smyth.

Of primary importance at this first meeting will be a discussion of means of raising funds for the Brother Gregory Memorial Library.

Members will also make plans for the annual Retreat movement and a proposed Monthly Communion by the Knights in a body. It was suggested by Father Joseph Manning, chaplain, that this Communion be held regularly.

A report will be made on the State Convention held in May at Santa Monica. William Dooms and Victor Wilkiemeyer were the local delegates.

The annual reception of the Saint Vincent de Paul Society to take place at the second meeting, will also be discussed Wednesday by the council.

Officers of the organization are Harry Hooper, Grand Knight; Raymond Moffit, Chancellor; and Father Manning, Chaplain.

Comment & Opinion

STUDENT body cards selling at the new price of $2.50 will provide the ASSMC with more funds than it has had at any other time in its history. However, prosperity must not be used as an excuse for carelessness and laxity in the disbursement of student body money. It is imperative that the budget committee, appointed by the Executive Council near the close of last semester, meet at once so that the needs of each student supported activity may be considered thoroughly. Careful planning by the budget committee, coupled with strict accounting requirements will make it possible for the ASSMC to develop new activities and will insure adequate support for established ones such as debating and dramatics.

While arranging the budget for the 1938-39 year the committee would do well to consider an expenditure for the purchase of two or three signs of the reflector type used on the state highways. Stationed at the crossroads and other strategic points the signs would direct visitors to this campus by night and day. With the 1939 World's Fair but a few short months away it is not unreasonable to expect a large flow of tourists in the direction of Saint Mary's. Alumni, friends and supporters of the college desiring to visit the campus would appreciate greatly the assistance that could be rendered by the installation of signs at a few strategic locations.

Brother Leo Formulates Saint Mary's Man's Credo

FOLLOWING the tradition of opening editions, THE COLLEGIAN here prints "The Saint Mary's Man's Credo."

Since it contains the fundamental beliefs of the Saint Mary's man, and embraces the principles upon which the college exists, it should serve a dual purpose: to the freshman, a source of information; to the returning student, a reminder:

"I believe that the world has an Idea behind it and that my life is more than a merely animal life.

I believe that my biggest and unending business is, according to my ability and my opportunity, to champion the cause of Goodness, Beauty and Truth.

I believe that the things of the spirit are more important than material things and that the man who ignores spiritual values ignores the deepest and truest things in life.

I believe in honesty, not because it is the best policy, but because it is the will of God which ordains that I shall be fair and square with all my fellow creatures.

I believe in art, literature, music, science, philosophy, and all the other forms wherein the human mind expressed its aspirations and recorded its achievements.

I believe in the European tradition of culture whereof I am the heir, and I pledge myself to live as best I may in harmony with its spirit and its aims.

I believe in the sacredness of my duties as an American citizen and honor the flag of my country as the symbol of political liberty.

I believe in whatsoever things are good, whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are honest.

I believe in Saint Mary's College, Mother of Men, and cherish the years I have been privileged to spend in her fostering care."

Seven Reasons Are Given For Support of Student Body

ON SALE next Monday morning will be the 1938-39 student body cards. That every member of the student body should purchase his student body card is axiomatic.

Why every member of the Saint Mary's student body should purchase his card should be apparent. But in case it isn't, here are a few salient reminders:

1. The purchase of a student body card makes one a bona fide member of the student association.
2. The book of rooter's tickets, which allows students the right of free entrance to Saint Mary's games, cannot be secured without a card.
3. No student may exercise his preferred seat option who has not purchased a student body card.
4. Without the revenue gained from student body cards, the student association would not be in a position to finance any kind of activities which engage the students in extra-curricular activities.
5. A student who has not secured his card will not be allowed to participate in such extra-curricular activities as debating, dramatics, journalism, intramural, minor, and varsity sports.
6. Free entrance to one or more social functions this year will be given only to those members of the student association.
7. Finally, no student can show a spirit of co-operation or an interest in the welfare of the student association, or a genuine and sincere interest in the welfare of the college, if he does not purchase a student body card.

Upper Classmen and Sophs Welcome Freshmen

TO THE freshman class of 1938, upper classmen and sophomores jointly extend a hearty and friendly "Welcome to Moraga." It is hoped that the members of the class of '42 enjoy their four years here in Moraga.

The freshmen are to be commended for the spirit they have displayed on the campus during these past few days of the annual "hazing" period by the traditional rivals of all collegiate yearlings, the sophomores.

With the termination of the "hazing" period after the traditional interclass brawl next Thursday, all first-year men should forget they are newcomers to Moraga and should remember they now compose an important part of the Saint Mary's student body.

Extra-curricular activities for freshmen on this campus are many.

Those interested in journalism are invited to join the staffs of either THE COLLEGIAN or The Brickpile. The Moraga Quarterly, faculty publication, invites articles by students.

Those interested in debating or dramatics are asked to sign up immediately with the faculty moderator, Mr. William Simon.

Clubs on the campus are numerous and membership is open to all students with student body cards.

Intramural sports activities soon will get under way with the appointment of class captains. And under the direction of Malcolm Fiese, director, the minor sports program of the college will swing into action during the next few weeks.

These are only a few of the extra-curricular activities in which all members of the student body, but especially the leaders of tomorrow's student body—today's freshmen and sophomores—are invited and urged to take an active part.

Henceforth the emphasis is on "college spirit" and not so much on "class spirit."

Moraga Musings

THIS week the Muser returns to a life of snooping and snitching, refreshed by a dull summer of minding his own business. Consulting a green book the All Knowing One noticed that three of the "boys" are now professors; they'll have a hard time living it down.

It's a good bet that the electric phonograph in the co-op was installed by the world's number one optimist. Gael photographers should take snapshots of the contraption before and after.

Bill Bloodgood is trying on the Harris trophy, and it seems to be a pretty good fit.

Outlooks and Insights

What We Do to People

A COMMON error in life is for a man, even a young man, to assume that his reputation should coincide with his character, that what people think of him should correspond with what he is. Rather, we might say, he thinks that people should accept him for what he thinks he is. Well, that simply isn't so. People for the most part don't care a bit about what we are; but they care much about what we do. Says Margery Wilson in "The New Etiquette:"

"There is no way to elude the truth that, so far as contact with the world is concerned, people are but briefly interested in the perfection of our personal performance, but they are vitally interested in what we do to them! . . . You are loved because you stimulate, amuse, elevate and appreciate people."

We do well when we decline to shape our lives merely to suit others, but there is no need to deceive ourselves into believing that we are going to be judged by our motives. We are judged—and liked—because of our actions. With God it is different; but with men what we want to do matters very little. To know that and to face things accordingly is not the least important lesson in human conduct and social relations. A worldly-wise mother used to tell her daughter: "Be pretty if you can, be witty if you must, but be agreeable if it kills you!"

We Need To Read

AS things are in the world of today, a man can't get very far unless he is a reading man. We learn some things from experience—often a costly sort of education—and from keeping our eyes and our ears open; but most of what we learn comes to us through books. Milton was right: "A good book is the precious life blood of a master spirit." If through sensible reading we associate with the master spirits of all time and all countries we are likely to secure a measure of mastery in our own lives and our own character.

We hear much nowadays about personality. What is it? Just this: Being something and being able to express what we are. Real personality is the overflow of inner grace and power. Well, books are splendid personality builders. They help to build up our souls, to sharpen our intellects, especially to develop our power of expression.

We can't do much in this world without language. To talk well, to write well are means of making our way—sometimes, indeed, of making our living—and of influencing our fellow men. Often they are the only means of conveying what we know and what we think. The habit of right reading infallibly breeds the power to write well and to talk well.

"By Heart"

TIME was when at least once a week every boy in school had to "speak a piece." In other ways as well he was encouraged to exercise his powers of memory—and therefore to develop them. Teachers in those days, and many parents, believed that learning things "by heart" was good discipline for youngsters.

It still is—and for oldsters as well—according to Mr. Angelo Patri. Growing reminiscent and philosophical in a recent newspaper column, he rejoices that his mentor, one Miss Grizzle, made him memorize poetry:

"Much of our time we spend alone with our lonely selves. The well-stocked head is our greatest source of companionship. The things we have learned by heart are ready to serve us. The sturdy facts of history, the music of remembered poetry, the help and comfort of remembered truths, are sustaining power in the time of need. Learning by heart thorough learning of what should be learned, honest achievement through effort in study are what counts in our mental furnishings by and by. Don't cheat the children."

Precious Bequest

LAST semester Manhattan College, the Christian Brothers' splendid New York institution, dedicated its Cardinal Hayes library, named in honor of a distinguished alumus, the Archbishop of New York. Almost simultaneously there died another eminent alumus of Manhattan, Monsignor John T. Slattery, widely recognized as a student of Dante. He bequeathed his Dante library of more than five hundred volumes to Manhattan College where they now form the first extensive contribution to the Cardinal Hayes library.

Monsignor Slattery lectured for years on his favorite subject at the Teachers' College of Albany and wrote several important volumes on Dante and associated topics. His most popular book, however, is one that he didn't write. It is written entirely by other people. He asked hundreds of people "What is your favorite passage from Dante, and why?" The answers he wrought into a most unusual and stimulating book, "My Favorite Passage from Dante." Truly it is a work wherein, like the river of Indian fable, a lamb may find footing, an elephant swim and a diver fish for pearls.

The Bystander

By Bill Glackin

McGILLICUDDY'S face fell when he saw us sitting at our desk, apparently doing business at the same old stand. "You back?" he said, not even trying to keep the disappointment out of his voice.

We said we were glad to see him too, and how had he been since we saw him last? He said okay, which is the stock answer.

"Have a good summer?" he said in a disinterested voice. This was, by actual count, the seventeenth time we had been asked this question, so we just ignored it. Not that he wanted to know, anyway. Trying to switch the conversation off the personal angle, we asked him how the initiation was going.

McG.'s face brightened. "Swell," he said, a note of importance creeping into his tone as he remembered that he was now a sophomore. "We're sure working those dumb freshmen over." We said we figured they probably liked that.

"Aw, what the heck," he replied, lapsing into the vernacular, "that's tradition. Everybody has to take that stuff."

"Why?" we asked, doing our best to keep from sounding like Baby Snooks.

"Well—well—uhhh—well because!" he said. "It's always been done, that's why. Say what are you, a radical?"

We admitted that maybe we were, but maintained that it had nothing to do with the question. "Speaking of tradition," we said, "Are you planning on reviving the Brawl this year?"

McGillicuddy got red. We'd hit a sore spot. He doesn't like to be reminded of last year's historic brawl, which was boycotted with telling and humorous ((to everybody but the sophomores) effect by the whole freshman class. "Don't worry," he said, "We'll be there —and so will the freshmen. We'll see to that."

We said we were sure of that, and we weren't wholly sarcastic either, but he was already out the door in a huff. We're afraid McGillicuddy is going to be troublesome this year.
